

September 2016

ROMANS PROJECT

Equipping pastors to abide in and feed their congregations from God's Word.

In Their Own Words

Reading the book of Romans twenty times and writing it out brought a great blessing to me. I understand deeper the concepts that Paul wrote and I will not be wrong to see this book as the most theological book of the Bible. I indeed have a better grasp of the work of salvation done by the Lord Jesus Christ and especially the role that the Holy Spirit plays in keeping believers in focus as they struggle to serve God.

I am resolute to pick this as a challenge to work through other books of the Bible in the same manner so as to grasp the full meaning not just for the "preaching of it," but for the "living of it." It was a hectic journey, but it came out rewarding because I went through the book word for word noting all the punctuation.

Chris Yashim Dariya
District Church Council
Secretary
ESCWA Good News Church

Cesar Tallada, Philippines National Director, at work on the Tagalog Translation.

GROWTH IN SE ASIA

On their recent trip to SE Asia, Rick Calenberg and Cesar Tallada (Philippines National Director) opened the door for the Romans Project to expand into Cambodia and Myanmar. While the two were in Thailand, at the Global Proclamation Congress for Pastoral Trainers in July, Rick and Cesar made several more contacts that we hope will be the first steps to bringing the Romans Project to Malaysia, Indonesia and India. With each contact they made, the value of the Romans Project was affirmed as being just what the pastors in these areas need to better serve their congregations.

As always, we are grateful for your partnership with us! To continue your support of the Romans Project use the enclosed response card or visit romansproject.org/donate.

