ROMANS PROJECT

Equipping pastors to abide in and feed their congregations from God's Word.

Niamey, Maradi, Galmi

These three cities in the Republic of Niger were the destination of Nigeria National Director Titus Turaki in late 2016. (Yes, you read that correctly, Titus is from Nigeria but is coordinating the Romans Project in neighboring Niger). The purpose of his trip was to follow-up with pastors in Galmi who had completed the Project requirements after it was introduced one year earlier. Titus was also able to introduce the Romans Project to groups of pastors for the first time in Niamey and Maradi. He hopes to find many more pastors that have completed the Project when he returns in March 2017. Titus often uses his personal testimony of how the Romans Project helped change his world view on the knowledge of the Bible. He says, "the reading and copying humbled me at the end, but I was hostile to it at the beginning." Here are a few pictures of pastors and participants in Niger.

Above: Pastors and church leaders introduced to the Romans Project in Maradi. Many pastors realized they have not been faithful in fulfilling God's mandate of preaching the word thoroughly. As a result of the team interacting with them, many prayed to ask God for forgiveness and promised to improve their preaching. Below: The meeting where Titus shared his testimony. Bottom: Pparticipants fellowshiping together around a meal.

As always, we want to say "thank you" for your continued prayer and giving to the Romans Project! We continue to praise God for the work that He is doing in the hearts of pastors though the Romans Project.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

It was not easy to complete the requirements of this project but through dedication I managed to.

As a young evangelist, I was really empowered and really motivated on how I can go on regarding my calling. I realized that there are a lot of things that I did not know and understand but through repetition I did.

Thank you very much for this opportunity and the more opportunities it created for me. God bless you. I would like to visit you one day.
