ROMANS PROJECT

Equipping pastors to abide in and feed their congregations from God's Word.

Report from Tanzania

This month Country Facilitator, Arthur Mbumbuka, was invited to a rural area in the Kyela region of Tanzania called Ngeleka to share about the Romans Project. Some pastors Arthur had connected with previously insisted that he should go and speak to them in person about the Romans Project. There were six pastors and their wives present, and when Arthur spoke to them about the RP, they were very happy and said they were ready to do the RP Challenge. They told Arthur that the reason they wanted him to come in person is because they were concerned that the Romans Project was some new religion. "There are many people coming up with all sorts of teachings that are not biblical," they said. They were fed up with their false teaching and did not want them in their areas. Praise God for this small group of believers who are spiritually discerning and only want the true word of God proclaimed! One of the pastors asked Arthur if he could go to Kyela town next. There are over 15 pastors there that he wants to hear about the Romans Project.

Church in Ngeleka

Pray that the pastors and their wives in Ngeleka will become even more grounded in the truth as they spend time in the book of Romans and complete the Challenge.

Report from Botswana

Kenosi Moalato, the Romans Project Botswana National Facilitator, asks for prayer for religious freedom in Botswana. He reports that the government of Botswana has implemented a new law which requires that all churches register as Societies, and for a church to be able to register, it must have at least 150 members. Kenosi says, "This has caused a religious turmoil in the country."

While this new law is very concerning to believers in Botswana, Kenosi has continued to see the Romans Project grow as pastors who have completed the RP Challenge go on to challenge other pastors and church leaders. Just in the month of June, 35 pastors and church leaders have begun the reading of Romans.

Pray that the churches in Botswana, especially the ones with smaller congregations, can continue to gather lawfully.

Where Are We?

Each month in this newsletter we like to report on at least two countries where the Romans Project is established and growing. But, have you ever wondered where to find a list of all the countries the Romans Project is in currently, and which countries are next to launch?

Visit romansproject.org and click About, then Where Are We? to find this information.

Join us in praying for the continued growth of the Romans Project, especially in the countries just opening, but also in countries yet to be introduced to the RP.
